

Meet Dragon – The Little Boss of Hartland Oaks

Aikane's Emerald Dragon may be small in stature, but don't let that fool you — this MDR-registered gelding has a big personality and an even bigger sense of self-importance.

Dragon is the son of our beloved jennet Deliah, and he definitely inherited her steady presence — with a lot more sass. He proudly serves as the trusty companion to our future herd sire, Prince, and takes his job very seriously. Whether he's standing guard, leading the way, or just making sure everyone knows he's in charge, Dragon brings energy and attitude to the pasture every single day.

Despite his miniature size, Dragon thinks he runs the entire farm — and honestly, we don't argue. He's even been caught trying to bully the full-sized horses with his signature “small but mighty” swagger.

Quirky, confident, and full of heart, Dragon is more than just Prince's sidekick — he's the unofficial boss of Hartland Oaks and he knows it.
